

Patriots for Disabled Divers

Okay, so who exactly is Patriots for Disabled Divers?

Patriots for Disabled Divers (PFDD) is a group of divers dedicated to bringing the joy of scuba diving to people with disabilities. The desire to share the healing experience of scuba was born from the observed therapeutic value to the physically and/or cognitively challenged diver. Visit www.patriotsfordisableddivers.org

Cool... but what does PFDD really do?

We work with dive shops nationwide, like SeaVentures, to train people living with all kinds of disabilities (like PTSD, autism, paraplegia, quadriplegia, traumatic brain injury, and A LOT of others) to scuba dive. In most cases, we pay for 100% of the training which means that training is free to participant and the shops and instructors get paid in full (that way we can assure there is no reduction in quality of services or training).
